SHELTON SGA PRESIDENT SELECTED CAPITAL INTERN BY ALABAMA LAW INSTITUTE

When Jon Lyman travels to Montgomery this spring for a four-month stint as part of the Capital Intern program sponsored by the University of Alabama Law Institute, it will be the beginning of a dream for the young Shelton State student.

Lyman, who is completing his second year at the college, is one of four students from the state selected for the honor and the only undergraduate student chosen. He is currently president of Shelton's Student Government Association.

During his internship which began January 27 and will continue through May 28, Lyman will work in Governor Hunt's office while the legislature is in session. As part of his responsibilities, he will help track bills of interest for the Governor along with other duties.

Jon plans to transfer to the University of Montevallo this fall to continue his studies and eventually hopes to return home to attend the University of Alabama School of Law.

In addition to his duties as SGA president, Lyman is also vice president of Phi Theta Kappa, national two year college honorary. He is majoring in pre law and social work with a minor in political science.
